Inactive Membership Requirements At-a-Glance

Inactive membership is intended for individuals who will be away from the profession for a period of time but who wish to retain their current membership designation upon return to the profession. This category of membership is open to Members for a maximum of ten consecutive years. Upon return to the profession and the IDA, Inactive Members do not have to qualify for membership under current standards but are re-admitted to their previous category of membership.

Applicants must fulfill the following criteria to meet the requirements for Inactive Membership:

Criteria:

- Current Registered, Provisional or Associate membership.
- Professional liability insurance coverage; required for coverage of projects completed when working.
- Ongoing continuing education (reduced requirements) and participation in IDCEC program.
- Payment of annual dues.

Application Requirements:

- Letter requesting transfer to this category of membership and including indication of length of time individual intends to be away from workforce.
